BLING MY BELL

Concept by Henrietta Southam

Sapna and Harry were introduced to me through the architect I have most admired and followed in Ottawa in the last few years: Jaiveer Bawa. They had purchased a stone manor in the toniest cul-de-sac in Rockcliffe from an NHL player and wished to transform the dark and disheveled interior into a home that would serve three purposes: showcase Harry's talent as a builder and developer, set off Sapna's radiant beauty and warm hospitality, and most importantly for both, make their children want to return to roost.

The first command I received from Jai was simple: "Make It Like Drake" became our mantra. Given that I view my designer touch as subtle, this directive loomed large and contrary until my first meeting when it became clear that these clients were comfortable with the exquisite taste it takes to balance the palette of black, white and gold.

The floor plan shaped up into a regal statement of rooms that flowed from one to another allowing the client's desire to accommodate his many friends and stately companions. Arches became a central theme with cutting edge designer lighting a close second. Every nook and cranny became an expression of quiet, restrained, jewel-like refinement.

This concept, when perfectly executed, will redefine luxury for years to come. It will be the standard bearer and taste maker. Two extremely difficult goal posts that this hat trick of Harry, Henrietta and Jai can pull off with hard but passionate and trusting team work.

RING MY BELL

*I'm glad you're home
Now did you really miss me?
I guess you did by the look in your eye
Well lay back and relax
While I put away the dishes
Then you and me can rock a bell*

*You can ring my bell anytime, anywhere,
You can ring my bell, ring my bell*

*The night is young
And full of possibilities
Well, come on and let yourself be free
My love for you
So long I've been savin'
Tonight was made for me and you*

*You can ring my bell, anytime, anywhere,
You can ring my bell, ring my bell.*

*Frederick Knight 1979
Sung by Anita Ward.*
